Gavin Robertson elected as Royal Kennel Club Chair

The Royal Kennel Club (RKC) Board elected Gavin Robertson as the Royal Kennel Club Chair and Yvonne Rawley MBE as the Royal Kennel Club Vice-Chair in June.

Gavin has served on the board since 2024 and has been a member of the RKC for 22 years. He awards Challenge Certificates in more than 70 breeds and judges the Hound, Gundog, Utility and Working groups in addition to Best in Show at championship level.

He has been involved in breeding and showing dogs since he was a child and has both bred and owned over 90 UK champions across five groups, including Best in Show at Crufts in 2013 with the Petit Basset Griffon Vendeen (Ch Soletrader Peek A Boo). He also bred the Westminster 2023 Best in Show winning Petit Basset Griffon Vendeen (Am Ch Soletrader Buddy Holly).

Alongside his involvement in the dog world, Gavin is an owner and co-owner of multiple companies.

Gavin said following his election: "I am thrilled to have been elected as Chair of the Royal Kennel Club and would like to thank my fellow Directors for their support.

"I am committed to working with colleagues across the organisation to build on our successes, champion responsible dog ownership and breeding, and to ensure that the Royal Kennel Club continues to thrive for future generations.

"It is an honour to take on this important role, and I look forward to engaging with the leadership team and Board over the coming weeks as we build on the strong foundations already in place to deliver for the dog community."

The new Royal Kennel Club Vice-Chair, Yvonne Rawley MBE, was elected to the Board in 2025 having been involved in the showing world of pedigree dogs since the 1970s. She has enjoyed success with Tibetan Spaniels, Shih Tzus, Pekingese and Poodles, breeding or owning champions across all of these breeds. She also awards Challenge Certificates in these breeds and has judged at Crufts and around the world.

The RKC would like to thank former Chair Ian Seath, for his leadership and commitment to the organisation over the past year. Ian has chosen to step down from the RKC board. The RKC would also like to thank Paul Eardley, who has stepped down as Vice-Chair, a role he has held since 2022, for his valued contribution. The Board is grateful to both for the significant roles they have played during their tenure.

I am committed to working with colleagues across the organisation to build on our successes.

A first message

from new Royal Kennel Club Chairman Gavin Robertson

Following his recent election in June as Chairman of the Royal Kennel Club (RKC), Gavin Robertson has shared his first message, setting out his vision for the future of the organisation and the priorities he believes will help strengthen our community for generations to come.

A Member of the RKC for more than 20 years, Gavin brings a wealth of experience from across the dog world, having served on clubs, committees and the RKC Board. Alongside his wife, Sara, he has enjoyed significant success as an exhibitor and breeder, including Best in Show wins at both Crufts and Westminster in the USA. Now, as Chairman, he is committed to building on the strong foundations laid by his predecessors while ensuring the RKC continues to champion dogs, members and the sport we all love.

In his first letter, Gavin reflects on the importance of sportsmanship, supporting the next generation of dog enthusiasts, strengthening governance and maintaining an unwavering focus on canine health. He also pays tribute to the volunteers, clubs and Members whose dedication underpins every aspect of the RKC's work.

Gavin said: "I've been an RKC Member for 22 years. I've worn various hats over the years on clubs and committees before joining the RKC Board in 2024. So, I've sat in a number of the seats within this organisation at one point or another. From Beagles as a child, then Petit Basset Griffon Vendéens my parents and I discovered at Crufts in the 1980s, to the success my wife Sara and I have had with our own dogs over the years as exhibitors and breeders, culminating in winning Best in Show at Crufts and Westminster along the journey, this community has been a huge part of my and my family's life. It has given us a lifetime of amazing moments and I am keen to give my energy and experience to this role.

"Before I say anything about what's next, I want to properly mark what's already been done. Ian Seath gave the RKC a huge amount, not just as Chairman but the seven years before it. I'm starting from solid ground with the existing authoritative health agenda, the pledge on culture and conduct, and, with Chief Executive Jannine Edgar, real progress towards financial stability, including a clear route back to breakeven and money to reinvest in dogs and grassroots activity. Former Vice Chair Paul Eardley's contribution on governance has been noteworthy, very much alongside Ian, and I'm glad he's staying on to see it through.

"As a Board member, I had my own say, like everyone else does, in shaping the organisation's plan, and I'll keep having it as we build on that work with Jannine, the Executive team and colleagues."

Gavin's message included his areas of focus with the Board and as the new Chairman.

On sportsmanship, Gavin said:

"If we want to continue with our sport, then we have to really start working together. It starts with all of us: sportsmanship, respect, integrity, fairness and fun. The pledge discussed at last year's Special General Meeting and this year's Annual General Meeting already sets the tone. I want to build on it, not replace it. This is our hobby, our social life, our excuse to see the same faces every weekend. We owe each other respect for that, and there needs to be action when it's missing."

Turning to the future of dogs, with reference to the next generation and activities, Gavin continued:

"These two belong together. Getting newcomers of every age excited, whether that's obedience, agility, field trials, showing... or something undiscovered, is how this community survives the next fifty years, not just the next five. That means supporting the grassroots properly: local shows, breed club committees, weekly training classes, what most of you are already doing. And it also means working just as hard on engaging those who aren't Members yet as we do on those who are."

Gavin also highlighted governance and his commitment to the RKC's health agenda:

"I have been listening, and change has to happen. The work that Paul, the Liaison Council and the committees have already put in means we've got solid ground to build on. That includes the new Membership model on the table now. Paul staying on will help continue driving all this through.

"Our focus on canine health must remain unwavering. I am committed to improving canine health through the significant programmes the RKC has in place and planned for in the future. It is vital that we bring everyone in our community and sport with us on this journey, demonstrating that the health and wellbeing of our dogs is at the heart of everything we do."

Gavin welcomed the appointment of Yvonne Rawley MBE, Vice Chair, noting that,

"She is the first woman to hold that role in our history. She's been part of the pedigree world since 1977, and I'm glad to have her judgement alongside mine as we look ahead."

Looking ahead, Gavin acknowledges the community: "None of what the RKC does, from the smallest local show to the huge crowds at Crufts, happens without you, the volunteers on a weekend morning, the committee members keeping breed clubs afloat, the stewards and judges and instructors giving up their free time. I've done that work myself, so I don't take it lightly, and I'm looking forward to doing more of it alongside you.

"My door's open if you've got something to say, by email or by finding me at a show. And thank you for the many kind congratulations I've already had. Every one of those messages has meant a lot.

"Thank you, too, to the Board, for putting their faith in me. I don't plan on wasting it.

"Right then. Let's get on with it!"

My door's open if you've got something to say...

Miniature American Shepherd (Imp)

Yakutian Laika (Imp)

Interim Breed Standards to be published for three breeds

The Royal Kennel Club Interim Breed Standards for the Miniature American Shepherd (Imp), Yakutian Laika (Imp) and Small Munsterlander (Imp) will be published on 1 August 2026. All three breeds will therefore be eligible for exhibition in Imported Breed Register classes from this date. The standards will be available on the Royal Kennel Club website.

The Miniature American Shepherd was developed in the United States in the late 1960s from small Australian Shepherds. Bred for their intelligence, versatility and compact size, the breed was originally used for herding smaller livestock while retaining the ability to work larger stock when required. Today, it is an agile and intelligent working dog, equally suited to life on the ranch or in a domestic environment.

Rooted in the vast and demanding landscape of northeastern Russia, the Yakutian Laika is an ancient working breed shaped over millennia by its vital role in transport, hunting and daily survival. Celebrated for its resilience, instinct, and unwavering devotion, the breed was carefully revived in the 1990s and formally recognised by the Russian Kynological Federation in 2004. Today, the Yakutian Laika stands as a striking, versatile companion whose popularity is steadily rising worldwide.

The Small Munsterlander originated in the North German Munsterland region and has been documented since the 19th century. Developed as a versatile hunting dog, it is recognised for its ability to work in forest, field and water. Known for its intelligence, affectionate temperament and strong hunting instinct, the breed remains popular with hunters for its adaptability and performance.

The Miniature American Shepherd (Imp) and Yakutian Laika have been classified in the Pastoral and Working Groups respectively on the Imported Breed Register since 1 July 2026. The Small Munsterlander (Imp) has been classified in the Gundog Group on the Imported Breed Register since 2005.

The Royal Kennel Club welcomes firework consultation

Following the UK Government launching a consultation on proposals to ban the loudest fireworks outside of professional displays, the Royal Kennel Club has issued a statement welcoming the consultation.

The Royal Kennel Club has campaigned on this issue for many years, including hosting parliamentary events, briefing MPs and peers, and engaging directly with Ministers. It is pleased to see progress on an issue that is so important to the welfare of dogs and other animals.

Dr Ed Hayes, Head of Public Affairs at the Royal Kennel Club said: "The Royal Kennel Club is pleased to see progress on its longstanding campaign to reduce the impact fireworks can have on dogs and other animals and welcomes the UK Government's consultation.

"We have campaigned on this issue for many years, investing significant effort in raising awareness, including hosting parliamentary events in Westminster, briefing MPs and peers ahead of debates, engaging directly with Ministers and officials, and encouraging dog owners to make their voices heard.

"Unexpected loud bangs and bright flashes can cause significant distress, making events that involve fireworks particularly stressful for many dogs. Royal Kennel Club research shows that 80 per cent of dog owners notice significant changes in their dog's behaviour during fireworks, with many dogs showing signs of extreme fear, including trembling, hiding, barking excessively and becoming unusually clingy. RKC research also shows a 100 per cent increase in dogs going missing during the fireworks season, with almost a third of owners saying their dog shivers and trembles during fireworks.

"Alongside our campaigning, we have also provided owners with guidance and support to help their dogs cope during fireworks season, available on our website.

"We welcome new measures that aim to reduce the distress fireworks can cause while allowing celebrations to continue responsibly. We look forward to contributing to the consultation and continuing to work with the Government to improve animal welfare."

If you would like more information or guidance on firework safety for dogs, please get in touch with Royal Kennel Club Press Office at press.office@royalkennelclub.com.

Meet Miep:

Seizure alert dog.
Crufts winner.
Opera performer.

Hungarian Pumi Miep keeps retired NHS counsellor, Robert Stuhldreer, safe by alerting him to epileptic seizures. Not only this, Miep is also an award-winning show dog with wins at Crufts and the Bournemouth Championship Dog Show. Incredibly, Miep also performs alongside her owner in major opera productions. Now the pair have been named finalists in the BBC Make a Difference Awards, taking place from September.

An extraordinary Hungarian Pumi, who helps alert her owner Robert to potentially dangerous epileptic seizures, while also enjoying success in the show ring and performing in major opera productions alongside Robert, has been named a finalist in the BBC Make a Difference Awards animal category.

Royal Kennel Club registered Miep (PUMIDEN MIEP GIES FOR WIDOWMAKER), aged 4, owned by Robert Stuhldreer, 65, from Islington, was nominated by Robert's partner thanks to the dog's incredible impact on Robert's life. The retired NHS Senior Counsellor, who now trains dogs for film, television and opera productions, receives no warning before an epileptic seizure strikes and, after years of unpredictable episodes, was left vulnerable to serious injury. A broken nose, a broken cheek and a growing fear of going out alone left Robert's world increasingly restricted.

"My life became much more limited," said Robert. "The medication wasn't working as well as I'd hoped, my partner was constantly worried about me going out, and I had to stop showing my dogs as much because I was worried about having a seizure in the ring."

One of the lowest points came when Robert suffered a seizure in public and woke up to discover his wallet had been stolen while he was unconscious.

"It really brought home how vulnerable I could be," he said. "When you have no warning that a seizure is coming, situations like that can happen."

Having owned Akitas and Border Collies for many years, Robert decided around a decade ago to try a Pumi, a lesser-known Hungarian herding breed renowned for its intelligence, desire to work, endearing appearance and lively temperament. The breed had just 16 litters registered by the Royal Kennel Club in 2025.

What he didn't expect was that one of them would transform his life.

"People doubted whether a show dog Pumi could be trained as a seizure alert dog," he said. "I remember thinking, 'Watch me.'"

With Robert's training, Miep developed a series of increasingly clear warning signals.

"If I'm lying down, she'll press her nose against my head," said Robert. "If we're out walking, she'll stop dead. If I ignore her, she'll move in front of me and stare at me. At home, she'll look me in the eye and, as a last resort, she'll bark."

The warnings allow Robert to take precautions and get somewhere safe, usually lying down, before a seizure occurs.

The consistency of Miep's ability to alert Robert before a seizure has had a life-changing impact. Today, Robert has gone almost six months without a seizure, the longest period he has managed in recent years.

“Having someone constantly looking out for me changes how I can go about life

"Part of that comes from the confidence Miep gives me," he said.

"Having someone constantly looking out for me changes how I can go about life. It gives me confidence and it gives my partner confidence that I can go out and come back unscathed, which is huge for our general wellbeing."

As effective as Miep's support is, it extends beyond seizure alerts.

"She lifts my spirits whenever I have to go to hospital and she's fantastic with people," said Robert. "She always improves the mood of the room she is in."

Remarkably, away from her assistance work, Miep has built an impressive career in the show ring and is believed to be the only Pumi working as a seizure alert dog in the UK.

Her achievements include winning the Kennel Club Good Citizen Class at Crufts, securing Best of Breed at the Bournemouth Championship Dog Show and competing successfully at championship shows across the country.

"She absolutely loves showing," he said. "She can't wait to get into the ring and will jump straight onto the table to get the judge's attention."

As if being a seizure alert dog and successful show dog wasn't enough, Miep has also enjoyed a career on stage.

Trained by Robert, she has performed alongside him in front of live audiences in major opera productions, including two five-month tours of La Bohème. She has appeared with Opera International and at the National Opera and Ballet Theatre, Kyiv.

For Robert, it is the combination of roles that makes Miep truly unique.

"It's amazing that I get all of this in one dog," he said. "She's a performer, a companion and a lifesaver all rolled into one."

Most assistance dogs are not also Crufts winners and opera performers, but Miep has excelled in all three worlds.

For Robert, reaching the final stage of the BBC Make a Difference Awards is about far more than personal recognition.

"It would be amazing if she won, but just getting this far is incredible," he said.

I hope Miep's story helps raise awareness and makes life a little easier for people who rely on assistance dogs every day

"It's a fantastic opportunity to highlight a wonderful lesser-known breed and show what they're capable of, but more importantly it highlights the amazing work assistance dogs do."

"Show dogs can become assistance dogs and assistance dogs can become show dogs. Every dog is an individual."

Robert hopes Miep's story will encourage greater understanding of assistance dogs in public spaces.

"People don't always stop and think before challenging somebody with an assistance dog," he said. "I hope Miep's story helps raise awareness and makes life a little easier for people who rely on assistance dogs every day."

Asked what he would say to Miep if given the chance, Robert's answer is simple:

"Thank you for always being there, for your devotion, and for being so determined and dogged."

Jannine Edgar, Chief Executive of the Royal Kennel Club, said: "It's heartwarming to see such an extraordinary bond between a dog and its owner that goes far beyond companionship."

"Miep's recognition in the BBC Make a Difference Awards is a testament to her training, the intelligence of the Hungarian Pumi breed, and the incredible contribution assistance dogs make every day to improving people's lives."

"Not only has Miep transformed Robert's quality of life, but she has also enjoyed success in the show ring and performed in opera productions across Europe. She is a truly deserving finalist, and we wish her and Robert the very best for the awards ceremony."

Sue Finnett

SEMINARS:

- Points of The Dog
- Conformation and Movement

When Sue first started showing dogs, she quickly realised she needed to understand conformation and movement to improve her chances. She practised with her own Deerhounds and racing Greyhounds, having worked as a Greyhound vet for several years. When Conformation and Movement trainers were being sought, she and Hector applied and were accepted.

They used a Deerhound skeleton, their first champion - which even travelled with them to a seminar in Holland, thanks to a special DEFRA letter confirming he was rabies-free!

It's been a joy for her to see attendees compare bones on a live dog, like a Saluki or Whippet, with the skeleton and say, "I finally understand front construction!". She now judges several hound breeds and the Hound Group, and she's still learning - that's what keeps it fun.

Fun Fact: Their daughter, aged 7, once asked, "Where's the coupling?" and "Where's the brisket?" after reading their seminar diagrams. She went on to take the POD at Windsor Ch Show and passed - with just one mistake!

Sheila has been involved in showing and breeding Tibetan Spaniels for more years than she cares to remember. With over two decades on the Scottish Kennel Club committee, she remains actively engaged at all levels of the dog show world. She currently serves as Vice-Chairman of a breed club, Chairman of a general canine society, and Secretary of another.

Sheila was first encouraged to get involved in training when it was introduced by Eleanor Bothwell, though she waited until she had more time before fully committing.

Now a dedicated trainer, she finds it a rewarding way to support others on their journey toward judging their beloved breeds.

Recognising how daunting that path can feel, Sheila is passionate about offering guidance and encouragement to those just starting out. She takes great pride in watching trainees progress, sharing in their enthusiasm, and being part of their development.

Fun Fact: When she's not working with dogs, Sheila's often tending to her garden.

David's interest in pedigree dogs began in 1995 when his family welcomed their first Labrador. Showing became a passion around five years later. His two main showing breeds today are Gordon Setters and Weimaraners, in which he has owned champions, group winners, and Best in Show winners. He has also owned an Irish Setter and a Pointer Champion, and currently shares his home with Border Terriers and a Whippet.

He is passed to award Challenge Certificates in twelve gundog breeds and the Gundog Group at championship level. As a Royal Kennel Club Accredited Trainer for all seminars, he particularly enjoys working with up-and-coming judges, sharing knowledge and experience to support their growth and confidence.

Fun Fact: David maintains a successful flock of Shetland Sheep - which he also shows, of course! They have received numerous top awards and consistently achieved leading prices at breed society sales.

Interim Breed Standards

MINIATURE AMERICAN SHEPHERD (IMP)

At its recent meeting, the Board approved an interim breed standard for the Miniature American Shepherd (Imp). This is with effect from 1 August 2026.

BRIEF HISTORICAL SUMMARY The Miniature American Shepherd was developed in the USA in the late 1960s with breeding of small Australian Shepherds. The breed was developed for their small size, active character and intelligence. The main use for development was herding smaller livestock but having courage to tackle larger livestock if required. It is a breed with a unique identity, eye catching, versatile little herding dog, equally at home on the ranch or in the city.

GENERAL APPEARANCE Slightly longer than tall, with moderate bone and in proportion to body size, height without extremes. Movement smooth, easy and balanced. Exceptional agility combined with strength and stamina for working over a variety of terrains. Superior intelligence and willingness to please. Loyal, biddable worker with watchful expression. Double coat of medium length and coarseness. May be solid colour or merle, with or without white and/or tan markings. Traditionally docked or natural bobtail.

IMPORTANT PROPORTIONS Measuring from point of shoulder to point of buttocks and from highest point of shoulder blade to ground, slightly longer than tall. Substance: Solidly-built with moderate bone in proportion to body height and size. Structure reflects masculinity without coarseness. Females appear feminine without slight of bone. Overall structure gives an impression of depth and strength without bulkiness.

TEMPERAMENT Intelligent, primarily working dog with a strong herding instinct. May show initial reserve, never shy or aggressive. Protective of family, good natured, devoted and loyal.

HEAD AND SKULL In proportion to body. Clean cut and dry. Skull slightly rounded, approximately equal in length and width. Muzzle equal to, or slightly shorter than length of skull. Medium width and depth, tapering gradually to a rounded end. Moderate, well-defined stop. Nose and eye rims: black in blue merles and blacks; brown tones in reds and red merles. Poor pigmentation undesirable over one year of age.

EYES Expressive, almond shaped, set obliquely with tight fitting rims. Brown, blue or amber, or combination including flecks and marbling. May express a reserved look or be watchful of strangers.

EARS Triangular, of moderate size with slightly rounded tip. Set high on the head. When alert, brought forward and carried semi-erect, with half to three quarters of the ear breaking forward or to the side as a rose ear. Never pricked.

MOUTH Jaws strong with perfect, regular and complete scissor bite, i.e. the upper teeth closely overlapping the lower teeth, set square to the jaws.

NECK Clean, without throatiness. Moderate length, strong, slightly arched; fitting smoothly into shoulders.

FOREQUARTERS Shoulder blades long and flat, well laid back. Upperarm of comparable length and angulation. Height to elbow is half the height of the dog at the withers. Forearms straight from all sides with moderate oval bone. Elbows close to ribs without looseness. Short, thick strong pasterns, flexible and slightly angled when viewed from the side.

BODY Length from point of shoulder to point of buttock slightly greater than height at the withers. Strong, firm level topline. Chest deep with moderate width, brisket reaching to elbow. Well sprung ribs carried well back. Broad, strong loin. Moderately sloping croup. Moderate tuck-up.

HINDQUARTERS Approximately equal in width to forequarters at shoulder. Angulation of pelvis and upper thighs reflects that between shoulder and upper arm. Moderately angled stifles. Low set hocks with rear pasterns perpendicular to the ground, parallel when viewed from rear.

FEET Oval, compact with well-arched toes. Thick pads. Short, strong nails which may be any colour.

TAIL Undocked; set on following the line of the croup. Moderate length not kinked. In balance with the overall outline of the dog. Moderately feathered. May be naturally bobbed.

GAIT/MOVEMENT Agile, smooth, free and easy, with ground-covering stride. Fore and rear limbs move straight and true but should converge with speed. Topline remains firm and level.

COAT In moderation and preferably shown in natural coat. Medium length and texture, straight to slight wave, weather resistant with undercoat. Short hair on head, ears, front of forelegs and below hock joints. Back of legs, moderately feathered. Moderate mane, more pronounced on males than females.

COLOUR Blue merle, black, red merle, red, all with or without tan points. All colours strong, clear and rich. White should not dominate head. On all colours, areas covering and surrounding ears and eyes are dominated by coat colour other than white.

May have white as follows:

- Full or part collar, not extending beyond point of withers at skin.
- Chest
- Muzzle
- Moderate blaze
- Underparts
- Fore legs
- Hindlegs, preferably not extending above hock joint

Any other colour or combination of colours unacceptable.

SIZE Males: 35-46cms (13¾-18ins) at withers; Females: 33-43cms (13-17ins) at withers.

FAULTS Any departure from the foregoing points should be considered a fault and the seriousness with which the fault should be regarded should be in exact proportion to its degree and its effect upon the health and welfare of the dog.

NOTE Male animals should have two apparently normal testicles fully descended into the scrotum.

SMALL MUNSTERLANDER (IMP)

At its recent meeting, the Board approved an interim breed standard for the Small Munsterlander (Imp). This is with effect from 1 August 2026.

BRIEF HISTORICAL SUMMARY The breed was first bred in the North German Munsterland, being documented since 1870 and involved the breeding of flushing and pointing dogs over hundreds of years. In 1921, Dr Friedrich Jungklaus created the first breed standard to promote the breed as an intelligent and affectionate medium-sized, versatile hunting dog, working in forest, field and water. Popular today with hunters, for its performance and versatility.

GENERAL APPEARANCE A strong, medium-sized, pointing dog, upstanding in posture. Built on elegant, flowing lines. A keen, steady, persevering hunter, with good social skills; friendly towards people. Medium length, dense, slightly wavy coat. Feathering on ears, forelegs and breeching extending to the hocks. Heavily feathered tail, carried horizontally, with a distinctive long flag and white tip.

IMPORTANT PROPORTIONS Length of body from point of shoulder to point of buttock, slightly greater than height at withers, ideally in the ratio 11:10.

Length of skull from occiput to stop, equal to length from stop to nose.

Depth of body from withers to brisket equal to length of foreleg from elbow to ground.

TEMPERAMENT Intelligent, easily trainable. Alert and friendly towards people.

HEAD AND SKULL Head balanced, lean and in proportion to body. Skull slightly rounded from ear to ear. Stop distinguishable, not pronounced. Cheeks well-muscled. Lips slightly rounded, tight fitting, with solid brown pigmentation. Nose solid brown.

EYES Medium size, dark brown, neither protruding nor deep-set. Eyelids close fitting, showing no haw.

EARS Set on high, hanging close to head and tapering towards the tip. Not extending beyond corner of mouth. Hair on ears long.

MOUTH Powerful jaws, regular and complete scissor bite, i.e. upper teeth closely overlapping lower teeth and set square to the jaw. Large white teeth.

NECK Moderate length, muscular, lightly arched, gradually widening towards the shoulder. Without throatiness.

FOREQUARTERS Chest deep, rather than broad. Well up at withers. Shoulders moderately laid back. Elbows set well under the body, turning neither in nor out. Viewed from the front, forelegs straight and parallel. Pasterns strong and slightly sloping.

BODY Topline slightly sloping from withers to croup. Back short and firm. Ribbing deep. Costal arch carried well back. Loin short and muscular. Croup long, broad slightly sloping. Skin closely fitting.

HINDQUARTERS Hips broad and muscular. Upper and lower thigh of equal length. Well-tuned stifle. Hocks well let down, straight and parallel when viewed from the rear.

FEET Round, turning neither in nor out. Toes well-arched. Firm, well-developed pads. Feathering between toes not too profuse.

TAIL Medium length, thicker at base, tapering towards the tip. Set on fairly high, extending along line of the topline. Well-feathered, tapering to a flag. Held down at rest; in action, carried horizontally, or slightly above the level of back with a slight upward sweep.

GAIT/MOVEMENT Straight and true with good drive and reach. Pacing undesirable.

COAT Medium length, dense, and water repellent; Slight wave acceptable. Never so long as to obscure outline of body. Long on ear, reaching to tip. Forelegs feathered. Hindlegs with breeching to the hock. Long flag on tail with white tip. Profuse feathering on forechest undesirable.

COLOUR Brown & white.

Brown roan, which may have brown patches, brown mantle and/or brown ticking. Often with a white blaze.

Tan coloured markings on the muzzle, the eyes, ears, tail, around the vent, and legs permissible

SIZE Dogs: 52-56cms (20½-22ins).
Bitches: 50-54cms (19¾-21¼ins)

FAULTS Any departure from the foregoing points should be considered a fault and the seriousness with which the fault should be regarded should be in exact proportion to its degree and its effect upon the health and welfare of the dog and on the dogs' ability to perform its traditional work.

NOTE Male animals should have two apparently normal testicles fully descended into the scrotum.

YAKUTIAN LAIKA (IMP)

At its recent meeting, the Board approved an interim breed standard for the Yakutian Laika (Imp). This is with effect from 1 August 2026.

BRIEF HISTORICAL SUMMARY The Yakutian Laika is an ancient native dog breed which was naturally bred by aboriginal people in north east Russia as a sled and hunting dog. Archaeological discoveries confirm that the local people used dogs for sledding and hunting as long as 8000 years ago. The first Breed Standard for the North-East Sled Dog was adopted in 1958 and it formed the basis for the Yakutian Laika breed standard published in 2005 by the Russian Kynological Federation. For many centuries, the Yakutian Laika accompanied the northern man in everyday life, helping him to hunt, vigilantly watching his home, herding reindeers and transporting goods in the severe conditions of the far north. These skills ensure that the Yakutian Laika is a versatile breed.

GENERAL APPEARANCE Medium size, strong, compact, well-muscled, with moderately long legs and thick skin with no signs of looseness. Coat well-developed and sufficient for living and working in severe Arctic conditions. Difference between sexes clearly pronounced, males stronger and more powerful than females.

IMPORTANT PROPORTIONS Length of body from point of shoulder to point of buttock exceeds height at withers by 10-15%. Length of head slightly less than 40% of height at withers. Length of muzzle about 40% of length of head. Length of foreleg to elbow slightly more than half of height at withers.

TEMPERAMENT Bold, lively, loyal to man, friendly, sociable and energetic.

HEAD Wedge-shaped, moderately pointed, in proportion to size of dog. Skull moderately broad, slightly rounded. Cheeks moderately pronounced; well-filled in below eyes. Stop well defined. Muzzle wedge-shaped, gradually tapering. Nose large, black or brown, with wide open nostrils. Lips dry, tight-fitting, well pigmented.

EYES Almond-shaped, set straight and wide apart. Not deep set. Dark brown, blue, or blue segments on brown iris, or combination. Eye rims close fitting, matching colour of nose. Unpigmented eye rims permissible.

EARS Set on high. Thick, erect or half-pricked. Triangular, wide at base. Covered with dense, short hair. Ears laid back while moving.

MOUTH Teeth large. Jaws strong with perfect, regular and complete scissor bite, i.e. upper teeth closely overlapping lower teeth and set square to the jaw. Level bite acceptable. Tightly undershot bite tolerated in mature dogs.

NECK Moderate length, muscular.

FOREQUARTERS Very well-muscled. Shoulder sloping, of moderate length. Upper arm, sloping, of moderate length. Elbow set close to the body. Forelegs long, straight, parallel. Pasterns short, strong, slightly sloping.

BODY Compact and muscular. Topline straight with only very slight slope from moderately pronounced withers to set on of tail. Back broad and firm. Loin short and muscular. Croup wide, long, muscular and rounded; almost horizontal. Chest broad, ribs well sprung. Underline slightly tucked up.

HINDQUARTERS Well boned and muscular. Viewed from the rear, straight and parallel. Stifles well bent. Thighs broad and muscular. Lower thigh of medium length. Hocks well defined. Rear pasterns vertical.

FEET Well arched, with close fitting toes. Hind feet slightly larger than the front feet. Pads very hard. Thick coat between toes.

TAIL Set high, covered with thick furry coat, curled up in a semi-circle over back. At rest, may hang loosely. Sickie curved tail undesirable.

GAIT/MOVEMENT Fast, elastic.

COAT Thick, glossy, straight, coarse, of medium length. Very well-developed, dense undercoat. Forms a mane on neck, especially pronounced in males. Shorter on head and front of legs. Thick feathering on back of legs. Tail feathered with a small fringe.

COLOUR White and with any patching (bicolour or tricolour). Any solid colour except white highly undesirable. Any other colour or combination of colours unacceptable.

SIZE Height at the withers: Males: 55-59cms (21¾-23¼ins). Females: 53-57cms (20¾-22½ins).

FAULTS Any departure from the foregoing points should be considered a fault and the seriousness with which the fault should be regarded should be in exact proportion to its degree and its effect upon the health and welfare of the dog.

NOTE Male animals should have two apparently normal testicles fully descended into the scrotum.
